EXPANDED USL FORMAT FOR 2015

The USL 2015 competition format features a two-conference alignment to further promote regional rivalries. The USL has expanded to 24 teams for its 2015 season with the establishment of professional soccer in new markets along with the addition of seven MLS owned and operated clubs.

The USL will be split into 12-team Eastern and Western Conferences in 2015, with teams facing each of their conference opponents at least twice during the 28-game regular season schedule. The additional six games (beyond the standard home and away against the other 11 intra-conference foes) will be matchups against geographic rivals resulting in several cross-conference contests.

"Transitioning to a conference-based structure is consistent with our long-term growth strategy and enabled by the rapid expansion of the league," USL Executive Vice President Jake Edwards said. "This new format will promote regional rivalries, allowing fans greater opportunity to support their clubs home and away as the league continues to bring its brand of professional soccer to enthusiastic markets throughout the U.S. and Canada.

"With 12 teams qualifying for the playoffs in 2015, more USL fans will have the opportunity to experience the special atmosphere that is created by the league's knockout tournament post-season format." The 2015 season will also bring changes to the USL's single-elimination playoff format with the top six finishers in each conference moving on to the four-week postseason. Teams will be seeded No. 1 through No. 6 in each conference, with the top two seeds receiving first-round byes and the No. 3 seed hosting the No. 6 seed and the No. 4 seed hosting the No. 5 seed.

The winner of the No. 3 vs. No. 6 game will then travel to face the No. 2 seed, and the winner of the No. 4 vs. No. 5 game will travel to face the No. 1 seed. The winners will meet in the Eastern & Western Conference Championship games with the remaining two teams advancing to square off in the 2015 USL Championship, hosted by the higher seeded club.

There are a total of six awards to be earned in the 2015 USL season. In addition to the highest honor of 2015 USL Champions - awarded to the winner of the league's post-season tournament - the USL will officially honor the Eastern Conference & Western Conference champions for both the regular season and the playoffs, as well as the overall USL Regular Season Champion - the team earning the most regular season points.

2015 Season Preview

HEAD COACH: Bob Lilley

STADIUM: Sahlen's Stadium

2014 RECORD: 10-10-8, sixth place

PLAYOFFS: Quarterfinals, L 2-1 vs. LA Galaxy II

OVERVIEW: The return of Bob Lilley to the Rhinos' sideline brought a return to the playoffs in 2014, where the side fell to the LA Galaxy II. The offseason has brought change, however, with USL Goalkeeper of the Year John McCarthy and leading scorer J.C. Banks the most notable of those to move on.

GOALKEEPER: Rhinos backup goalkeeper Brandon Miller returns to the side, and will face competition for the starting spot from former PDL Goalkeeper of the Year, Adam Grinwis. A former standout for the Michigan Bucks, Grinwis took MVP honors as the Bucks claimed the PDL Championship last summer.

DEFENSE: The Rhinos had a standout season defensively in 2014, and return Patrick McMahon for a second season. Tony Walls also had a strong year between midfield and defensive roles last season, while former MLS defender Grant Van De Casteele and German defender Julian Ringhoff to mitigate the departures of Kyle Hoffer and Patrick Slogic.

MIDFIELD: Jonny Mendoza and Mike Garzi both return to the side, and both will look to provide creativity to spark an attack that scored the second-fewest goals in the league. Added to the mix is Christian Silva, who brings USL experience after most recently competing in Europe, while Kenardo Forbes will try to translate his passing from the indoor game in the center of the park.

FORWARD: Alex Dixon and Colin Rolfe both return to Rochester, and Christian Volesky arrives after a strong MLS Combine and good career for FC Tucson. Many eyes, however, will be on powerful 6-foot-4 Cape Verde forward Steevan Dos Santos, who will aim to lead the line as he arrives from Norwegian club Ullensaker/Kisa IL.

BIGGEST STRENGTH: The Rhinos have always played well defensively under Lilley, and reached the playoffs last season aided by the second-best defensive record in the league. Expect teams to continue to find it difficult to break down a resolute back line.

BIGGEST QUESTION: As great as the Rhinos have been defensively, their attack has struggled. Now with Banks and his nine-goal haul from last season gone, can the club's new additions spark an offense that last topped 30 goals in a season in 2011?

KEY STRETCH: The Rhinos host six out of seven games from the middle of July to the end of August, with 2014 playoff teams the Charleston Battery, Richmond Kickers, Harrisburg City Islanders and Wilmington Hammerheads FC among the visitors.

KEY NUMBER: 9 - The Rhinos' returning group scored only nine of the team's 29 goals a season ago. Players such as Dixon, Rolfe and Mendoza will need to raise their performances in their second seasons with the club.

COACH'S VIEW: "We have a lot to be encouraged about heading into the 2015 season. We've got a group of guys here who have a great chemistry together, and who are working hard to get better every day in training. We scored a lot of goals during the preseason, and we're scoring goals every day during training, so I think we've got some attacking pieces in place this season. We're ahead of where we were last year, but early results seem to indicate that the league is going to be better than it was last season as well."

From the Coaches Desk: Head Coach Bob Lilley Optimistic For 2015 Season.

The Rochester Rhinos kickoff the 2015 season with the New York Red Bulls. The Rhinos have one of the richest soccer histories in North America and hope to continue this tradition. The 2013 Rhinos were the only team in club history to miss the playoffs, but with the return of Bob of 2014, the Rhinos returned to the playoffs as well. With Lilley heading into his second, consecutive, year with the Rhinos, the coach has a good feeling about the 2015 season.

The 2015 season has brought a number of changes to the Rhinos as well as the league. The offseason leading to the 2015 season saw tremendous growth, including a number of clubs owned and operated at by MLS parent clubs.

"I think the level of play is going to be very strong this year. We have all of the MLS teams coming in and they will certainly put good teams out there. And I think a few of the early results with Seattle beating Sacramento and Toronto pushing Charleston indicates that the league is going to be stronger as a whole," Lilley stated when asked about the upcoming season. "It's exciting to have all of these new opponents. Old rivalries will be there again. We're excited to open up at Red Bull Arena and NYRBII as well. We are going to be challenged but we feel like we have a really good group and we're looking forward to it."

A team managed by Lilley will usually have two base qualities: a focus on possession and a strong defense. He believes that keeping these two qualities will help, but he recognizes the need for scoring. The Rhinos allowed only 25 goals last year, which was the second fewest, but only managed to score 28 goals.

"Well, I think for us, last year we were pretty good in possession and we also defended really well. That won't always win you games though. You've got to score goals to win. We feel like that is going to be important to us to be more explosive and we've taken the steps to improve ourselves offensively," Lilley said. "We still want to have the ball and we still want to dictate games on our terms. Hopefully we can be as stingy as we were last year. I think if we're able to keep the possession and defending where it was last year, I do expect we are going to be quite good because I do believe we will score a lot of goals this year."

Bob Lilley and the Rochester Rhinos will return seven players from the 2015 roster, losing key players such as Rookie and Goalkeeper of the Year, John McCarthy, and 2014 team MVP, JC Banks. But, Bob is optimistic. "Well, there's no doubt that we lost some key players. Losing McCarthy in goal is a pretty significant loss. We lost a few of our CB's that were solid for us last year, so we've had to replace those. And losing JC and Tyler, they were key pieces to us offensively," Bob began when asked about the evolution of the Rhinos roster. "So, we had to go into the market and be aggressive. I think we've done that and I think, overall, we are better than we were last year. We are little more athletic, a little more explosive, certainly bigger, overall, as a team, and I just think there will be just more depth in our group. I think we, right now, are significantly ahead of where we were at this time last year."

Although the preseason was a week shorter than last, Bob likes where the team is at. He recognizes that he is a touch demanding, but likes how the players are responding and coming together as a whole. "I think the chemistry is all great right now because we haven't lost yet, you know, and hopefully it stays great and we keep the ball rolling. But, I like how the guys interact with one another. I like the mentality of the group in terms of training and helping each other out. The communication amongst the guys seems to be at a good point right now," Lilley stated. "Certainly, they are all adapting to me, I'm pretty demanding. But, I think we have a very good group that wants to learn and grow, and are working really hard. George, Gavin, and I are pushing them hard and, right now, we seem to be coming together even though training camp was one week shorter. I think we are ahead of the pace we were on last year and we have a stronger group moving forward."

As we stated above, the Rhinos return a solid group of seven players from 2014 to play in the 2015 season, our 20th Anniversary season. Lilley gave us a nice breakdown of the squad and possible players to watch. "It's tough question, because we are happy with the whole group. It's tough to say who's going to emerge as the season goes on because I think there's going to be competition for jobs all year," Lilley began when asked of players to watch this season.

"In goal, we are happy with all three. Miller looks good as does Murdoch who we brought in from Hibernian FC, and Grinwis. They are all pushing one another, which is a good sign," Lilley stated. "We have Onua and Pat coming back which adds some stability there and I believe we have added some solid pieces that will help bolster the backline."

"We are really excited about the midfield with Tony Walls and Michael Garzi. Walls was one of our best players last year and Garzi has looked extremely sharp this year and expect him to play a big part. Dixon is one of the more explosive players in the league and Mendoza was real solid for us last year. With those four coming back, we are excited what we are going to do in the midfield. We have added Kenardo Forbes who played indoor for Syracuse. He sees the game well and has great awareness. He's an exciting and creative player. As he gets fit, we will see more contributions from him," Lilley continued.

"Colin Rolfe has been very good all preseason banging in goals and he looks hungry and fit. Volesky is a young player who was the MLS combine MVP and was drafted by Portland. When he was let go, we were able to get him here and he looks the part. We have a number of interesting pieces and look forward to seeing what happens," Lilley said about the forward crop.

2015 EASTERN

Charleston Battery

Head Coach: Mike Anhaeuser

2014 Record: Regular season USL PRO, 11-9-8. All competitions (playoffs, Open Cup, Carolina Challenge Cup): 12-13-9

Home Stadium: Blackbaud Stadium

2015 Outlook: After going 7-1-2 through the preseason – with a 4-1-1 record against NASL and MLS, the Battery enters the 2015 season with a deep, balanced roster. One of only four teams to reach the USL Playoffs all four seasons, the Battery had another solid season before being eliminated by the Richmond Kickers in extra time last year. The group has seen some key players move on, including Colin Falvey and Jose Cuevas, meaning a new core that began to take shape last season will need to fill those shoes to maintain the club's success.

Charlotte Independence

Head Coach: Mike Jeffries

Stadium: Ramblewood Soccer Stadium

2014 Record: N/A

Playoffs: N/A

2015 Outlook: The Independence open their inaugural season with a number of familiar faces from not only the Charlotte Eagles, who moved to the PDL, but from throughout the USL as they take aim at a strong first season. Head coach Mike Jeffries brings MLS experience, and helped the Des Moines Menace claim the PDL's regular-season championship a year ago, and will provide a strong hand to guide the new club.

Harrisburg City Islanders

Head Coach: Bill Becher

2014 Record: 14-13-7

Home Stadium: Skyline Sports Complex

2015 Outlook: After entering the USL Playoffs in 2014 as the number 8 seed and losing in the Championship match against Sacramento the front office, coaching staff, and players are committed to not only making it back to the USL Championship match, but also winning it in 2015!

Louisville City FC

Head Coach: James O'Connor

Stadium: Slugger Field

2014 Record: N/A

Playoffs: N/A

2015 Outlook: Led by one of its MLS partner Orlando City SC's former players, Louisville City FC will be aiming to emulate the success the Lions had in their four USL seasons. James O'Connor has been able to recruit a number of players with USL experience as he leads a club as a head coach for the first time, which should stand the side in good stead.

FC Montreal

2014 Record: N/A

Home Stadium: Olympic Stadium/Stade Saputo

2015 Outlook: 26 players will make up FC Montreal's first ever roster in USL in 2015. The team is composed of 20 Quebecers, five Ontarians, as well as one player from Switzerland. A team in USL is a key piece of the puzzle," said head coach Philippe Eullaffroy. "In the previous years, we didn't have that transitional level to go from the Academy to the first team." In addition to having played in the PDL in 2014, several players with FC Montreal have also played in MLS reserve league matches over the past two years, including Philippe Lincourt-Joseph, Frédéric Lajoie-Gravelle, Fabio Morelli, Charles Joly and Janouk Charbonneau.

CONFERENCE PREVIEW

NEW YORK RED BULLS II

Head Coach: John Wolyniec

2014 Record: N/A

Home Stadium: Red Bull Arena

2015 Outlook: The Red Bulls II will have a young, but talented squad for their inaugural season in the USL as they look to offer playing time to a number of the strong young players in their academy and recent draft selections on the fringe of the team's MLS side. Led by local legend John Wolyniec, the side should have players such as 2014 MAC Hermann Trophy winner Leo Stolz and a number of U.S. youth internationals at its disposal throughout the season.

Pittsburgh Riverhounds

Head Coach: Mark Steffens

2014 Record: 9-5-14

Home Stadium: Highmark Stadium

2015 Outlook: It is a brand new start for the Riverhounds, with a new owner, president, and head coach. The Club is excited for the new beginning and believe that we have invested in a solid core of returning players and have located talented new players to provide the first team with depth, speed, and versatility.

Richmond Kickers

Head Coach: Leigh Cowlshaw

2014 Record: 16-5-12 overall, 13-3-12 league

Home Stadium: City Stadium

2015 Outlook: With a combined 4 losses the last 2 seasons in the regular season, the Kickers will have a new look to the defense and midfield, anchored by veterans William Yomby, new team captain Michael Callahan and player/assistant coach Sascha Görres. The integration of an influx of new, young talent combined with young loanees from D.C. United (Collin Martin, Luke Mishu, Jalen Robinson and Travis Worra) will be the key for long-time Kickers head coach Leigh Cowlshaw.

Saint Louis FC

Head Coach: Dale Schilly

Stadium: St. Louis Soccer Park

2014 Record: N/A

Playoffs: N/A

2015 Outlook: Saint Louis FC enters its first season as a member of USL. The club will begin its regular season against new rival Louisville City FC on March 28. STL FC has formed a roster that combines local talent (Mike Ambersley, Mike Roach, Sam Fink) with players who hold international ties (James Musa, Richard Dixon, Oskar Gasecki).

Toronto FC II

Head Coach: Jason Bent

2014 Record: Wasn't in USL

Home Stadium: Ontario Soccer Centre; 7601 Martin Grove Rd, Woodbridge, ON L4L 9E4

2015 Outlook: TFC II took a balanced approach to building a squad for its inaugural season, and in Jason Bent has a coach with not only extensive playing experience, but also coaching experience in both the club's academy and with the first team. With its own home field in Vaughan, Ont., the club is likely to prove competitive on the field from the off with a number of good young players entering their first professional seasons.

Wilmington Hammerheads FC

Head Coach: Carson Porter

Stadium: Legion Stadium

2014 Record: 9-8-11, seventh position

Playoffs: Quarterfinals, L 4-1 vs. Sacramento

2015 Outlook: A mid-season coaching change and late surge up the standings saw the Hammerheads earn a place in the playoffs, where they were eliminated by the eventual champions. Carson Porter saw the interim tag taken off his title in the offseason, and will hope the positive momentum can continue with some bright players back for the new season.

ROCHESTER RHINOS CELEBRATE 20 YEARS

The 2015 season marks the Emerald Anniversary of Rhinos soccer in Rochester. Founded in 1996, the Rhinos have been one of the most successful teams in the United States and Canada making the playoffs in 19 of the 20 seasons, winning three league championships, and being the only non-MLS club to win the Lamar Hunt US Open Cup (1999) since the MLS debuted in 1996.

With our rich history of soccer in Rochester and throughout North America, the Rhinos are highlighting the past in a couple of different ways this season. With the help of Rochester native, Todd Dawes of Dawes Art, the Rhinos have unveiled a new logo as a tribute to the 20th Anniversary! It will be the primary logo for the 2015 season and will be featured on the team's official Admiral kits, home and away, as well as commemorative merchandise throughout the entire season.

Furthermore, a very special highlight of the 2015 season will be the Rhinos Legends game! This will be a very special evening that will take place on Saturday, June 27th, 2015. The Rhinos are scheduled to play the Pittsburgh Riverhounds on what is our annual Hall of Fame Night. Before your 2015 Rhinos take the field, the Rhinos greats from the past will clash on the pitch in the Rhinos Legends game!

Patrolling the sidelines, as they once did, will be renowned and Hall of Fame coaches Frank Odoi and Francisco Escos. Leading the teams on the field will be Craig Demmin, the captain of "Team Demmin," and Billy Andracki, captain of "Team Andracki." As of March 30th, there have been five players selected for each team. Joining Craig on "Team Demmin" will be: Lenin Steenkamp; Pat Onstad; Scott Schweitzer; Darren Tilley; and Nate Daligcon. Joining Billy on "Team Andracki" will be: Doug Miller, Hector Marinaro, Billy Sedgewick, Mali Walton, and Tommy Tanner.

Each week, a new player will be drafted to "Team Demmin" and "Team Andracki" and it will culminate with an unforgettable Rhinos Legends game to help to celebrate 20 years of Rhinos soccer. "This is going to be a fun night. Having guys back in Rochester that played a big part in our history and having them on the field that they helped build is going to be exciting for all of us. I'm honored to have had the opportunity to coach them and look forward to seeing them all again in a Rhinos uniform." said Ercoli.

A TRIP DOWN MEMORY LANE

Craig Demmin: It was somewhat of a ritual walking out of the changing room and lining up in the tunnel alongside our opponents, waiting for our names to be called before every game. It was also the beginning of the game for all of us. A time for players like Scottie, Mali and Tim to have an early start in getting in the head of the opposition. We won many games in that tunnel. I've heard dog barking, wolf howling and other sounds and gestures that I could never describe/repeat. I sometimes had to put my head down (like the opponents) and smile at my own teammates but what followed on the pitch was a type of energy and confidence that became our trademark. We always talk about our unbelievable home fans being the 12th man but couple that with our tunnel exploits, it might have our best combination.

Billy Adraicki: I want to thank Rob Clark, Pat Ercoli and the Rhinos organization for honoring the 96-99 teams and provide so many great players with an opportunity to reconnect. Being a part of so many great teams throughout my 6 years with the Rhinos. One of my most memorable moments was the game against the Tampa Bay Mutiny of the MLS who featured Carlos Valderrama in front of 13,000 people at Frontier Field and winning 4-3 in overtime to advance in the Open Cup. Not many times in a goalkeepers career you give up 3 goals and leave the game satisfied.

Josh Freeman: I had a camera in the locker room the night of the championship game in 1998. By far my favorite - Yogi showing up in a kilt.

Joe Mercik: A few things that really stand out were our playoff runs each year culminating in the two A-League Championships and US Open Cup Championship. The wonderful atmosphere at Frontier Field and the unwavering support from our amazing fans throughout the entire season helped make 1998 a magical one. Being able to win the Rhinos first championship in front of our home crowd was a special feeling I'll never forget.

Hector Marinaro: There are plenty of memories. From opening at Frontier Field with sold out crowds to playing in the league final against Seattle and playing in the US Open Cup final at RFK Stadium versus DC United. Overall, the support and excitement of the people of Rochester made for a great summer.

Scotty Schweitzer: I loved being part of the team/family that we had built. I loved the city and the people; I never considered them fans just another part of the Rhinos. I felt like we were building the sport. We were as important and relevant as the MLS to making soccer become what it is in the United States. There is not one experience because everything that went on in Rochester encompassed each other and each experience fed into each other to make the entire time there the most special experience.

Billy Sedgewick: Winning and assisting on the game winning goal to win the 1999 US Open Cup and the two A-League championships in 2000 and 2001. Those are my most memorable moments. My connection to the Rochester community was massively important as well.

Mali Walton: Winning 4 championship with a great group of talented players. The city of Rochester, the fans and getting involved in the community (The Flower City Inner City Soccer League). Finally, seeing my teammates start families and my son being born in Rochester.

Mauro Biello: That fantastic season of 1999, when I joined ranks with them for one of the most memorable runs I ever had the chance to part of with a team: the conquest of the US Open Cup. I'll never forget the excitement and the amazing odds that were against us every game, especially when we battled MLS club. But most importantly, I'll always treasure the tremendous fan support and

CREATION OF THE 20TH ANNIVERSARY LOGO

The 2015 season marks the 20th Anniversary of Rhinos soccer in Rochester. To celebrate such a rich history of soccer in North America, we decided to create a commemorative logo. The new logo is a way to celebrate our history while giving it a refreshing new look. The 20th Anniversary logo was created by Rochester native Todd Dawes, of Dawes Art.

Todd Dawes grew up in Charlotte and started drawing as a small child. "I used to draw football and hockey players, sports teams' logos, and race cars," Dawes said. "I would attempt to draw photos out of Sports Illustrated and newspapers." Eventually, Dawes love for drawing and sports continued throughout his young life. He eventually went to high school at Aquinas Institute where he played football and hockey. "I enjoyed playing street hockey and I would make uniforms with markers and paint for all of my friends," Dawes stated.

After graduating from Aquinas, Dawes went to Central University of Iowa where he majored in communications and art. He played quarterback for the football team, but after suffering an injury and losing some financial support, Todd transferred to the University of Dayton. He played spring football for Dayton, but had to retire and return home to care for his mother when she became ill with cancer. Eventually, Todd finished his college degree in Fort Lauderdale where he learned how to airbrush, paint, and create all kinds of art using different mediums. "I've been playing soccer for about 10 years now. I noticed that a lot of the national teams and soccer teams do not have mascots nor do they have the artwork and the merchandise like professional sports in the United States. So, I decided to develop my own collection of international soccer designs," Dawes stated about his growing passion and love for soccer.

In the past year, Todd has partnered with Admiral Sportswear creating art for soccer jerseys that can be found on www.dassportsgear.com. When this opportunity came up Paul Hamburger, the CEO of Admiral, came to Todd with the task to design a new 20th anniversary log and artwork for us. "I was very excited! I've been a huge Rhinos fan even though I have to follow them from Florida. Whenever I come home, I go to as many games as I can," Dawes stated. "I looked at the current rhino that had been in use for a while and wanted to use my style of a very strong and powerful charging rhino. I have been developing similar animal character artwork for my national team collection," Todd said.

Todd has been able to mix his love of art and sports throughout his life. "My art career has always been around sports. I have done considerable amount of work for professional football teams and players, baseball, hockey, and basketball. I've been fortunate enough to do a lot of work for Jim Kelly and his charity for his late son, Hunter." Some notable pieces that Todd has created were a piece that he did for Jim Kelly's induction into the Hall of Fame as well as some work he has done for Dan Marino's retirement.

"My proudest moment in my professional design career would have to be the work I've done with Jim Kelly and his charity, Hunter's Hope. Being from Western New York, I was always a big Bills fan, especially during the time when the Bills were going to all of the Super Bowls and I've always supported the team win or lose," Dawes stated. "To see my logo on Kelly's jerseys and seeing t-shirt art and paintings that I've done that is helping to fund the research for Krabbe Leukodystrophy (the disease Kelly's son passed from) makes me very proud. To assist Jim and his family to raise money to help fight this disease and find a cure is a great feeling. Getting to know Jim and his family and see him struggle with everything and actually help them was an honor," Dawes continued.

Finally, we had to talk to Todd about some advice for future artist and designers. He stated:

"I give all future artists the same advice: learn how to draw, paint, sketch, use chalks, colored pencils, airbrushes, watercolor, and all the traditional tools first, before you get onto the computer. The computer is just another tool. If you learn traditional art first and take the talent that God gave you, you will maximize your potential. The computer is a wonderful tool and has helped artists and designers become more prolific and efficient when working in a very competitive field."

We must thank Admiral Sportswear, Paul Hamburger for putting Todd to this task, and last, but not least, Todd for the great work he has done for us and throughout his career. We are extremely proud of the artwork you have done for us and look forward to seeing you this summer!

ROCHESTER RHINOS... WHO WOULD HAVE KNOWN?

Who would have thought in 1995 that Rochester would ever have its own professional soccer team again? It had been over a decade since the Rochester Flash played their last match in the USL in front of a few hundred fans at Holleder Stadium. Yes, there was a men's pro team in Western New York called the Flash and they played in a league in 1984 coincidentally called the United Soccer League, which lasted all of 1 calendar year.

Twelve months had passed since the incredible success of World Cup USA 94 and Major League Soccer had been officially formed in February, so fans across the country were building in anticipation for the return of top flight pro soccer to the US. But for the loyal Rochester soccer fans who still fondly recalled the glory days of the Lancers and the NASL, nothing special seemed to be happening soccer-wise in 1995 for the Flower City.

Who would have thought a meeting of two native Rochestarians at a baseball game that summer would kickoff a new chapter in the long and storied history of professional soccer in Rochester? While taking in a Red Wings game at Silver Stadium in 1995, Rochester Americans President and CEO Steve Donner and Chris Economides, the former owner of the indoor soccer Kansas City Attack, talked about the potential for starting up a new pro soccer team in Rochester at Frontier Field, the future downtown home of the Red Wings that was being constructed that summer. After agreeing on the idea and bringing in Frank DuRoss as the primary owner, plans began for the return of the world's game to Rochester. But, would local soccer fans embrace a new pro team and could the club be successful on and off the field?

Who would have thought that on July 12, 1996, 14,717 fans would pack Frontier Field for the stadium's first sporting event to see the last place Rochester Raging Rhinos come from 2-0 down to defeat the A-League leading Montreal Impact 3-2 on a 2nd half hat trick and 89th minute match winner from Doug Miller?

Who would have thought that on September 7, 1996, the Rhinos would shock the soccer world by beating MLS leading Tampa Bay Mutiny in the US Open Cup 4-3 in overtime on a golden goal from Pittsford's Chris Kennel?

Who would have thought that 5 years later, the Rhinos would have won 3 league titles and the 1999 US Open Cup, making the franchise one of the most successful clubs in US soccer history?

Who would have thought that the Rhinos would average over 10,000 fans/match over a 10 year span, by far the best in the A-League/United Soccer Leagues and more than some MLS teams drew on a yearly basis?

Who would have thought? Probably very few, if any, soccer fans in Rochester. But looking back 20 years, we are so thankful for the vision of the original ownership group, the talent, heart and determination of the players and coaches and the dedication and hard work of the management and staff of the Rochester (Raging) Rhinos.

You have made all of us very proud, so here's to the first 20 years of the Rhinos and the next 20 years to come! In 2035, what will be the answer to the question, "Who would have thought?" Only time will tell...

YOUR RHINOS IN THE COMMUNITY

The Rochester Rhinos organization is dedicated to giving back to the community through various programs and initiatives throughout the year. In 2014, members of the Rochester Rhinos were instrumental in touching lives and making a positive change in the community by sponsoring events, helping to raise money for local charities, participating in youth soccer clinics, and donating tickets and autographed merchandise. As we look to 2015 the Rochester Rhinos will continue to strengthen our brand in the community as well as creating opportunities to build new relationships and partnerships. Below are some examples of the community programs, partnerships and fundraising activities by the team in 2014:

Non-profit Partnerships - The Rhinos organization collaborates with a number of non-profit organizations throughout the year to develop and execute programs that will raise both awareness and funding for these organizations. Such programs include:

Urology Associates/Zero Prostate Cancer - The Rhinos have partnered with Urology Associates over the years to bring awareness and support efforts to fight against prostate cancer. Last season the full team participated in the Zero Prostate Cancer Run/Walk sporting their specially customized Urology Associates blue jerseys. These game worn jerseys were auctioned off at a Rhinos home with proceeds benefiting this great organization.

Camp Good Days - The Rhinos players and coaches make an annual trip to the camp each year to spend the day with children suffering from cancer, as well and donates 150 tickets for children to come out to a game each season. The "Quarters for Cancer" was also developed, and takes place at each home game. This is a program where fans donate quarters as they enter the stadium and 100% of the donations are given to Camp Good Days.

Rochester City School District "School Day!" - The Rhinos will host "School Day" at Sahlen's Stadium in June. School day brings 10,000 inner city students into the stadium to have an opportunity to watch practice, meet the team, etc. Each student is provided motivational tips from players/coaches on the importance of good health, staying in school, etc....as well as provided a bag full of healthy essentials.

Ticket Programs - Through charitable requests each season the Rhinos organization donates over 1,500 tickets annually. These tickets are given to non-profit organizations who request donations throughout the season.

Player Appearances: Throughout the 2014 season, the Rhinos team members combined for over 150 different personal appearances within the Rochester community, including youth soccer events, appearances to inner city and local schools for reading programs and interactive school assemblies and career day events, and appearing at numerous local festivals and fundraisers.

ROCHESTER RHINOS ELITE SOCCER

The Rochester Rhinos are offering training and competitive teams for youth soccer players in the greater Rochester area.

The Rochester Rhinos Youth Soccer Program is designed to help individual players reach their highest level of development by putting the area's top resources behind them by utilizing professional facilities, along with professional soccer players and coaches. Junior Rhinos will develop to the best of their abilities in a positive, professional environment that demands the proper mindset and approach from all participants.

The Rochester Rhinos re-established the Junior Rhinos program in 2011 with two teams – a U11 boys team and a U11 girls team. From that foundation, the club has grown to have nine teams and almost 150 players under its umbrella in its first four seasons.

The Rochester Junior Rhinos will offer competitive teams for U11, U12, U13, U14, U15, U16, and U18 boys and girls during the 2015-16 season. The goal of each Junior Rhinos team is to move out of western New York and seek elite level competition in leagues and tournaments throughout the northeast United States. The competitive teams are overseen by Rochester Rhinos Head Coach Bob Lilley and Technical Director Georgios Kyriazis. The teams are coached by Rochester Rhinos players as well as some of the best local teachers of the game. Tryouts for the Junior Rhinos teams are held annually in July.

This past season Junior Rhinos teams participated in highly competitive regional leagues, tournaments, and championship tournaments. Junior Rhinos players and teams participated in the highly prestigious Region I Champion's League, New England Premier League of US Club Soccer's National Premier League, and USL's Super Y League. The club placed entrees into the Bethesda Thanksgiving Tournament, Needham Memorial Day Tournament, Afirm Dome College Showcase, Rider Cup, PA Classics Mid-Atlantic Cup, Arlington Invitational, FC DELCO Memorial Day Tournament, as well as the Sahlen's Super Series at the Rhinos corporate partner Sahlen's Sports Park. Junior Rhinos teams are also participating in the first step of the National Championship Series – New York West State Cup and US Club Soccer's Mid-Atlantic Regional Tournament.

All of the Rochester Rhinos youth soccer programs will be run out of New York's only soccer specific stadium – Sahlen's Stadium. Members will be exposed to the same training environment that Rochester Rhinos professional players are on a daily basis.

As families in our programs will support, we make a total commitment to everyone involved. It is important for families to understand that, as we grow, we are expanding our offerings to include as many players as quality control will allow. Space in our programs is always limited to preserve a strong teaching ratio. Our certified coaches work diligently to promote the best experience possible for all involved.
